

“Hello innovators of tomorrow’s manufacturing”

This is the slogan under which the doors to EMO Hannover – and consequently our Startup Area – will be opening in September 2023. Here, innovative startups will find a high-performance platform and the ideal place to share ideas with the sector’s established market leaders seeking new, exciting innovations.

Innovation meets experience. Pioneers meet leaders.

You and your startup are raising production technology to the next level?

Then present your solutions to the machine tool industry’s decision-makers at EMO Hannover 2023. Whether robotics and automation, predictive maintenance, additive manufacturing, mixed reality, or Internet of Things – Take the opportunity to present you and your concepts in the spotlight at the world’s leading trade fair for production technology and to find the partners you need to launch your solutions in the market.

Your startup in best company.
